

Brother in the night

You gave your heart to your dreams
You thought that real live is only passing through

And even if the sun shines on to everyone
There is still the moon my brother in the night

You didn't noticed it could change
But there's is a lot of range
Between day and night
And between wrong and right

And even if the sun shines on to everyone
There is still the moon my brother in the night

You never thought that it could rain
But it allways been the same
Every sunshine needs the rain
Every heartache needs the pain

I layed my heart in your hands
You hurt someone, like you never hurt someone...

And even if the sun shines on to everyone
There is still the moon my brother in the night

And even if the sun shines on to everyone
There is still the moon my brother in the night

You never thought that it could rain
But it allways been the same
Every sunshine needs the rain
Every heartache needs the pain

You never thought that it could rain
But it allways been the same
Every sunshine needs the rain
Every heartache needs the pain

And even if my life is hard
I will never miss the start
I'm not the one I will love till it's done
